

What I've been Thinking about:

- The minutemen
- My trip to Waitomo
- Missing some people who are no longer here

What Has been inspiring to me:

- Olia Lialina's work
- Helping out on Zarah's farm with her dad
- Becoming a freewheeling adult somewhat

Start:

I want a simple start screen with nothing really giving much away, I would like it to be bigger than the 400 by 400 pixel canvases we've been using as examples, might try to make it fill the screen or something.

Do I want it to be first or third person narrated? First to make it more personal by addressing the user directly? Or in third person to make a universe which has characters within?

What Genre is it? Sci-Fi/Noir? Romance/Adventure? A horror black comedy?

Discovery:

- I can't make something right away so need to make something that is good but doesn't need to be perfect story-wise
